

ENRICO VELLANO

Corporate

Enrico Vellano is the Chief Executive Officer of Lingotto, the asset management company owned by Exor.

Mr. Vellano was born in Torino in 1967 and graduated in Economics at the University of Torino. In 1992 he started his professional career at Arthur Andersen.

In 1995 he joined SAI Assicurazioni where he specialized in the management of equities and bonds portfolios. In 1997 he started his working experience at IFIL, the investment company controlled by the Agnelli Family. He held increasingly relevant positions until 2006 when he was named Chief Financial Officer of IFIL, which was merged in IFI in 2009 to create EXOR S.p.A.

From December 2016, when EXOR S.p.A. was merged into Exor N.V. based in Amsterdam, to October 2022 he was Chief Financial Officer of the holding.

Starting November 2022, Mr. Vellano was appointed as CEO of Lingotto.

He is also Chairman of Lifenet Healthcare and board member of Almacantar Ltd and Paris Office JV Ltd.
