

2023 EXOR INVESTOR DAY

On Thursday November 30th, 2023
at 3:00pm CET / 2:00pm GMT / 9:00am EST

Exor will broadcast a live webcast in conjunction with its upcoming Investor Day event

Exor's CEO John Elkann will provide a Company update and will be joined by Exor's leadership to discuss the Company's latest developments with the Analyst and Institutional investor community.

The presentations followed by a Q&A session will be held in English and broadcast live via webcast.

Participants may join the event via the following listen-only webcast link (registration required):
<https://edge.media-server.com/mmc/p/jvns9udg>

Participants interested in raising a question during the event will be able to do so via the Q&A box in the webcast platform from the start of the event.

The presentation material will be available for download at www.exor.com from the start of the event.

A webcast replay will be available after the event and until November 30th, 2024 by accessing the webcast link.

Please note that attendance in person is by invitation only.
